

Figure 1. (a) Probability of a predator attack versus the number of fish in a school. (b) Probability of a predator attack versus the number of fish in a school. The solid line represents the probability of a predator attack and the dashed line represents the probability of a predator attack (with school).